2	Exhibit 'CB-1', being copy of HTML files for certain URLs on various dates

I, Christopher Scott Butler, of 300 Funston Avenue, San Francisco, California in the United States of America, say on oath:

Background

1. I am the Office Manager at the Internet Archive, located in San Francisco, California. I have held that role since 2009. I make this declaration of my own personal knowledge.
2. The Internet Archive is a 501(c)(3) non-profit organization in the United States and operates the website accessible at <https://archive.org/web/> (the website). The website provides access to a digital library of Internet sites and other cultural artifacts in digital form. Like a paper library, we provide free access to researchers, historians, scholars, and the general public. The Internet Archive has partnered with and receives support from various well-known institutions and libraries, including the Library of Congress.
3. The Internet Archive has created a service known as the Wayback Machine. The Wayback Machine makes it possible to browse more than 450 billion pages stored in the Internet Archive's web archive.
4. As part of my regular duties at the Internet Archive, I oversee the production of authenticated records responsive to requests submitted to Internet Archive by civil litigants and law enforcement. The Internet Archive receives multiple requests on a weekly basis for authenticated records, including HTML files and images, captured by the Wayback Machine for purposes of civil litigation.
5. As part of my duties at the Internet Archive, I have given evidence regarding the Wayback Machine on approximately 30 occasions (including in Australia). I have provided all verbal testimony on behalf of the Internet Archive relevant to third-party requests for authenticated Wayback Machine archives since March 2009.

Signature:
 Christopher Butler

6. Visitors to the website can use the Wayback Machine to search archives by URL (i.e., a website address). If archived records for a URL are available, the visitor will be presented with a display of available dates. The visitor may select one of those dates, and begin browsing an archived version of the internet. Links on archived files in the Wayback Machine point to other archived files (whether HTML pages or other file types), if any are found for the given URL. The Wayback Machine is designed such that, if a visitor clicks on a hyperlink on an archived page, the visitor will be served the archived file found for the hyperlink's URL with the closest available date to the initial file containing the hyperlink.
7. The archived data made viewable and browseable by the Wayback Machine is obtained by use of web archiving software that browses the internet and automatically stores copies of files available via the Internet, each file preserved as it existed at a particular point in time.
8. The Internet Archive assigns a URL on its site to the archived files in the format [http://web.archive.org/web/\[Year in yyyy\]\[Month in mm\]\[Day in dd\]\[Time code in hh:mm:ss\]/\[Archived URL\]](http://web.archive.org/web/[Year in yyyy][Month in mm][Day in dd][Time code in hh:mm:ss]/[Archived URL]) aka an "extended URL". Thus, the extended URL <http://web.archive.org/web/19970126045828/http://www.archive.org/> would be the URL for the record of the Internet Archive home page HTML file (<http://www.archive.org/>) archived on January 26, 1997 at 4:58 a.m. and 28 seconds (1997/01/26 at 04:58:28). The date and time are based on Greenwich Mean Time (GMT).
9. A web browser may be set such that a printout from it will display the URL of a web page in the printout's footer. The date indicated by an extended URL applies to a preserved instance of a file for a given URL, but not necessarily to any other files linked therein. Thus, in the case of a page constituted by a primary HTML file and other separate files (e.g., files with images, audio, multimedia, design elements, or other embedded content) linked within that primary HTML file, the primary HTML file and the other files will each have their own respective extended URLs and may not have been archived on the same dates.
10. Attached hereto as Exhibit "CB-1" are true and accurate copies of browser screenshots of the Internet Archive's records of the archived files for the URLs and the dates specified in the attached coversheet of each screenshot and as set out below.

Company History

Established for over 20 years

The Aboriginal Community Funeral Plan – or the Plan as we will call it – is based in Coolangatta on the Gold Coast.

The Plan is part of a group of companies – ACBF Group of Companies – that has been providing funeral cover for Indigenous persons around Australia for 20 years.

The ACBF group of companies commenced in the late 1980's after Aboriginal health workers in the Armidale, NSW, area enquired if it was possible to set up a fund that would help Aboriginal families meet the costs associated with funerals.

Several different funeral fund companies were then set up in the early 1990's where it depended on your age and health as to which company you were able to join.

Then due to government legislative changes we were unable to join new members to these funds, and therefore a further company was set up, which is the Plan.

The Plan, and all other companies in the group, are proud to be privately owned and run, with no connection to any Government organisation or to any Aboriginal organisation.

The companies have over 25,000 clients across Australia and have been able to help hundreds of families with the funeral and related expenses of a loved one who had taken out funeral cover.

Established for over 20 years

The Aboriginal Community Funeral Plan – or the Plan as we will call it – is based in Coolangatta on the Gold Coast.

The Plan is part of a group of companies – ACBF Group of Companies – that has been providing funeral cover for Indigenous persons around Australia for 20 years.

The ACBF group of companies commenced in the late 1980's after Aboriginal health workers in the Armidale, NSW, area enquired if it was possible to set up a fund that would help Aboriginal families meet the costs associated with funerals.

Several different funeral fund companies were then set up in the early 1990's where it depended on your age and health as to which company you were able to join.

Then due to government legislative changes we were unable to join new members to these funds, and therefore a further company was set up, which is the Plan.

The Plan, and all other companies in the group, are proud to be privately owned and run, with no connection to any Government organisation or to any Aboriginal organisation.

The companies have over 25,000 clients across Australia and have been able to help hundreds of families with the funeral and related expenses of a loved one who had taken out funeral cover.

Planning Ahead

When a member of your family passes away it can be difficult to meet funeral costs, especially if it is unexpected. The Aboriginal Community Funeral Plan ("the Plan") can help you with the payment of these costs.

The Plan and related companies have been helping with funeral costs for over 25 years and have provided funeral plans for many thousands of Aboriginal people Australia wide.

The costs of funerals are only expected to rise over the coming years. All too often these costs have been passed onto loved ones or members of the community.

The Plan offers fast payouts ranging from $4,000 to $20,000. The payout is available by means of a group insurance policy at a time when it is needed most.

Who can apply?

The Plan is open to persons who at the time an application is made are under 70 years of age who have not been diagnosed with a terminal illness. From $6 per fortnight a funeral plan makes sense.

The payment amount for each person you want cover for depends on:

- The benefit amount you chose
- Their age and health

The total fortnightly plan payment is based on the amount of funeral cover you choose for each person.

Cover starts for everyone named on your plan once the first full plan payment is received by us. The cover is then available if one or all of these people pass away due to an accident, illness or suicide. In the case of more than one person under the plan passing, for example, caused by a car accident, a payout is available for each and every person covered by the Plan.

ABORIGINAL COMMUNITY FUNERAL PLAN

WELCOME

The Aboriginal Community Funeral Plan – or The Plan as we will call it – is based in Coolangatta on the Gold Coast. The Plan is part of the ACBF group of companies which have been providing funeral cover for indigenous people around Australia for over 25 years.

The Plan, and all other companies in the group, are proud to be privately owned and run, with no connection to any Government or other organisation. We have over 25,000 clients across Australia and have been able to help hundreds of families with the funeral and related expenses when a loved one passes away.

- ☑ Fast payouts - within 24 hours if we have all the info we need
- ☑ Personal service and a team you can trust
- ☑ Over 25,000 Aboriginal customers across Australia

Our History

ACBF was formed in the 1980s, when, in response to requests from Aboriginal workers to assist them in meeting the costs of funerals, we set up a series of funds to help pay for them. Sadly, many members of the community found themselves unable to pay for funerals which simply added to their grief.

Because of legislation, we were unable to offer membership for a scheme to pay towards the costs associated with funerals. As a result of this, we formed ACBF to help the Aboriginal community, and this is what we now call 'the plan.'

One Community

We pride ourselves on the personal touch when dealing with all of our customers and their questions. Our team are very experienced and friendly, and some of our staff have been with us for over 20 years.

We also pay out as fast as possible, often within 24 hours providing we have the information we need. Aboriginal Community Funeral Plans can be taken out for all family members at any time, and with only a few medical questions to answer we make it really easy to apply.

One of our proudest achievements is that in 85% of policies we pay out more than the person has actually paid in.

ABORIGINAL COMMUNITY FUNERAL PLAN

What Does The Plan Pay For?

By admin | Insurance | One comment

The Aboriginal Community Funeral Plan ("the Plan") is designed to provide a payout to meet the whole or part of the expenses of and incidental to a person's funeral and burial or cremation.

Losing a loved one can be a very difficult time. Please find below a full description of everything covered by our funeral plans so that you can easily identify what will be paid. Our payments are made directly to the funeral director first and then payments can be claimed.

It is a requirement that bills, invoices or accounts for all expenses be provided before the Plan can make a payment. This is a government requirement which the Plan must follow.

Please refer to the examples of "funeral and related expenses" which appear below:

Actual Funeral Costs – Costs of the funeral itself which usually appear on the Funeral Director's account. This can include the following:

- Funeral Directors professional fees
- Coffin/casket
- Floral arrangements
- Notices in papers, radio etc
- Copy of Death Certificate
- Choir fees / Soloist fees / Organist fees
- Cemetery fees
- Cremation fees
- Minister donation
- Grave digging fees
- Memorial books
- Order of service
- Mortuary transportation and hearse
- Rose petals
- Urn
- Grave marker

Travel Costs – Travel costs to attend the funeral, including air fares, air charter, train or bus fares, petrol, food.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

For your plan under the Aboriginal Community Funeral Plan ("The Plan")

For your plan under the Aboriginal Community Funeral Plan ("The Plan")

Set out below is a summary of the important points to remember about your plan.

- The Plan is run by ACBF Funeral Plans Pty Ltd, which is a private company. The company is not connected with or sponsored by any governmental or similar body or any Aboriginal organisation.
- The Plan is an Insurance product. The Plan is NOT a pre-paid funeral or savings plan, there is no money "in your plan". In return for the payments made, a payout will be available because of a group insurance policy obtained by the Plan from an insurer.
- The Plan is designed to provide a payout to help pay funeral and related expenses only. This could include transportation, flowers, headstones or any other cost related to the funeral.
- The whole of the payout amount you choose must be used for funeral and related expenses.
- The plan is available for as long as you want it. All you need to do is keep making your payments every fortnight. Each payment made ensures that the payout amount is available for that fortnight.
- Fortnightly payment amounts increase when Named persons reach certain ages and it is important that these increases are paid when they are due. These increases are set out on the back page of your Application form/s.
- You can ask to cancel your plan at any time. When a plan is cancelled we will not give any money back and the payout amount will no longer be available.
- If you have missed making 4 or more payments there will be no payout amount available. If this happens, a letter will be sent giving you 31 days to contact us.
- After these 31 days, if you have not contacted us, another letter will be sent telling you that your plan has been cancelled.
- When a plan is cancelled we will not give any money back and the payout amount will no longer be available.
- If the information given to us about the age or health of a person was wrong or misleading, we can limit the payout amount and we may be entitled to treat the plan as if it never existed.
- A payout amount will not be made available if a Named person passes away from suicide or intentional self-injury within twelve months after the date of commencing to be a Named person. In these circumstances the payments that had been made for that Named person will be refunded (up to an amount equal to but not more than the payout amount would have been).

If you are not sure about any of the information on this page, or if you would like to discuss the details of your plan further, please phone our Customer Services Team on 1800 622 924, as they will be happy to speak with you.
